[Reported for the Whig & Courier] TRIAL OF NANCY H. KIEF, Concluded:

Schooll Lake. When Capt K was moved, the most of the day was fair. A cloud came over anda little rain fell. It affected him considerably at first in the open air he was faint. At one. He did not absolutely refused to be removed, but rather opposed it. He was given to undeistand that some one else would administer besides his wife on account of the suspicious which were affoat. His wife was about not violently opposed his removal on Tuesday morning. He was alone when I went into the house. There were enough there to keep watch over her. I made no stop at Ames's.

John G. Bowen, heard Mrs Elizabeth Emerson say last winter that she had no suspicions of poison till the cups were found. She said thought Mrs K was guilty, and if she had it could have watched her. She expressed no desire to, have her hing, but said that if justice was done, she would be hung. She spoke of the familiarity will Peabody.

Fleazer Brown, of St. George, testified that he had been acquainted with Capt. K when he lived in St. George. Witness had a palpitation of the heart and liver complaint. Cant K. used to speak of a complaint in his side and stomach, and recommended Davenport's pills to me. He complained often till he left St. George. I was frequently at his house he and his wife lived I'went there. Mrs K. was remarkably pleasant particularly amigble. Storis A. Emerson, was at Mr. Ames's the night after the removal - heard a conversation between Capt K and his wife did not understand what they said. When she went away he asked her to come down, if he should send for her, and she said she would. Rundall G. Burrill watched there with me. Found Mrs K. there. He said she had done all she could for them early and late, wet and dry, night and people, would not be so foolish as to harbor such for the latter, that the present trial was had a thing in their minds. If he was poisored, he said he suspected some one else, but did not say who he suspected. Capt K. was a prudent man body was there except Burrill when Mrs K went home. He was sitting by the side of the bed can't say that Mrs Finerson was present when Capt. asked his wife to come down. Mrs K said she didnt know how she could leave the children, but she would if sent for. This was at dusk.

Doct Guy was called again by the Government, and stated that arsenic is not a corrosive poison It does not come under that head Ill. cers are not from corrosion in cases of arsenie. Corression is what corrodes, like Potagh.' The insects. Diarrhea is an accompaniment of the Asiatic cholera almost always accompanies it of $5,000. don't think a case could occur in this country without it. In cases of common cholera, the stomach is not inflamed there is no burning pain rather a cramp little irritation there might be a slight blush of inflamation. I should n't coincide with Dr. Burnham - don't consider those symptoms important which he does, and those important which he does not. The heart is killed by poison from arsenic.

Dect. Barker, called again by Government, that State. paid that arsenic was not corrosive, but is deeribed as an irritative poison it don't tend to putrefaction would preserve parts containing Fuens astonishingly they don't huld to the tide necessary to meet them with firmness and cornection. on dead, to preserve. Don't coincide with Dr September will be worse still for them. They Burnham, especially in regard to the time in dread it as a burned child does the fire. which death would ensue from poison. They have survived twelve days in one case of consumption, two years. Never knew a case of ! sumption, two years. Never knew a case of payin Guest. The Conservatives, or tail end indulence and neglect on the part burning pain in a case of common choicen. of the Federal Party. After the 10th of Septemought to keep the ball in motion.

People recovered from the effects of arsenic ber next, it will be difficult to tell whether this. The Whigs of Maine cannot be have felt it for five or six years. I should be governed by circumstances in giving brandy diluted brandy is proper in cases of a sinking feeling where a person has been poisoned. If it had rained hard, it would have been imprudent to rameve Capt. K if it had sprinkled a little, no injury would be done. Don't agree with Dr. Burnham in regard to the symptoms don't consider them the leading symptoms.

Cross-Francised. In the Parkman case, from twelve to seventeen hours is supposed to have elapted after the potson was administered before death ensued.

Part Willia Vavar colled tgain by the Government, and repeated what were the contents of each phial, &cc. sent to Dr. Cay. ! was sonversing with Mr. Hill, and I asked Doot. Moulton if he recollected dark spots in the stomach, and he said, "no."
